ABOUT THE VIJÑĀNA PARISHAD OF INDIA

- Vijñāna Parishad of India (Having Headquarter at D.V. Postgraduate College, Orai, Jalaun (U.P.), India is an International Society dedicated to the Application, of Mathematics in all fields of Sciences and Technology founded 1971-72 by Dr. R.C. Singh Chandel (Founder Secretary) inspired by Dr. B.B.L. Srivastava (Former Principal D.V.P.G. College, Orai, India) with collaboration of Prof. H.M. Srivastava (Foreign Secretary) University of Victoria, Canada and Late Prof. J.N. Kapur (Chief Adviser) who became President (1986-2003). Prof. Kapur was also elected the first fellow of the Parishad in 1996.
- The Society has been publishing its Research Journal “Jñānābha” (Sanskrit word for Ray of Knowledge) (Print ISSN-0304-9892, Online ISSN 2455-7463) since 1971. The Society has reciprocity agreement with the American Mathematical Society and at present is one of the five Indian Societies and thirteen Asian Societies which have such agreement with The American Mathematical Society. The research papers published in Jñānābha are indexed in the American Review (USA) and Zentrablatt for Mathematik (Germany). The society stands for the development of Mathematical Science in India and encourages the interaction of Mathematics with Engineering, Industrial, Medical, Physical, Biological and Computer Sciences.
